Treatment

Since 1981 Stone Hill Contracting has been a leader in the construction of water and wastewater treatment facilities throughout the Mid-Atlantic Region of The United States. Their model of partnering with the Owner and Design Professional has led them to a long history of repeat business and satisfied clients. Priding themselves on the quality of their work, and efficiency of their projects, Stone Hill has long been looked on as one of the best in the business, and they have often been a requested partner with design professionals on Design-Build projects in the region.

Stone Hill brings many advancements to the projects with which they are involved, including in house pipe system design, Project Management oversight on all projects and CPM scheduling. Their standard operating procedure of prior planning has proven to expedite projects, and avoid potential obstacles that may arise along the way. Their 100% commitment to safety is taken seriously every step of the project.

There are many contractors who can build a treatment plant, but it takes an experienced contractor, who strives for the best to give you the treatment plant you want. Stone Hill Contracting can and will meet your needs every step of the way.

Landfills

Stone Hill Contracting has the experience you need when working in landfills. Whether it be leachate or gas collection piping, leachate storage leachate treatment, landfill cover or landfill cell construction Stone Hill can meet your needs and exceed your expectations. Since their first project on a landfill site, Stone Hill has gone beyond what was expected of them, and has had many repeat projects on the landfill sites they have worked.

The key to being successful in the landfill construction business is understanding the clients needs, and in some cases even anticipating the needs before they become a problem. Stone Hill's experience has proven invaluable in working with their clients to provide a hassle free project, where there are minimal, if any, need for disruptions of everyday work on site. The landfill cannot stop or slow down because of the construction, so Stone Hill works with the owner to best orchestrate the means and methods of construction in order to minimize these disruptions.

Stone Hill also has the ability to work with the owner to provide Design Build, Turnkey projects for leachate storage, leachate treatment, trash transfer stations as well as other projects, that need to meet expedited schedules. Stone Hill is a full service company, and is more than able to meet your needs today and in the future.

Stone Hill Contracting has built bridges for Federal, State, Local, and Private entities, throughout Pennsylvania and New Jersey. From box culverts to multi-span structures Stone Hill has the capability and experience to provide the highest quality project, and to complete it in short time frames. Using the same management techniques that they employ on all of their work, Stone Hill is capable of performing the construction on the toughest of bridge projects. While self performing the majority of their work, Stone Hill has the ability to fast track the project and make it look simple, even when it isn't.

Next time you need a Bridge, Dam or other Water related structure constructed, be sure to give Stone Hill Contracting the opportunity to be a part of your project team.
